

Judicial Portal

Tailor information, access, and more for judges and other judicial officers to streamline decisions and keep pretrial processes moving forward

Achieve successful two-way communication between judges and other stakeholders as it relates to every pretrial detail. By customizing the right amount of defendant information based on agency processes and judicial discretion, you can keep decisions focused and consistently present data to ensure more expedited release decisions can be made.

Key Features

Detail charges, pretrial assessment results, legal system involvement, and more for judges to gain a comprehensive understanding of any defendant's case

Easy to view, configurable queues that help prioritize release decisions

Real-time access to critical information

Secure a private online portal allowing for individualized access

Two-way communication between judges and pretrial staff

With equivant Pretrial, your agency can:

- Create a cohesive plan and enhance its visibility for judges, pretrial officers, and stakeholders
- Save significant time and improve system efficacy for defendants
- Greatly simplify the flow of information among stakeholders
- Allow for faster decisions relating to release, length of stay, supervision, and more
- Encourage confident decision making by tailoring information as necessary for judges

Keep information flowing, decisions streamlined, and pretrial progress moving swiftly with Judicial Portals.